Dear Sir:

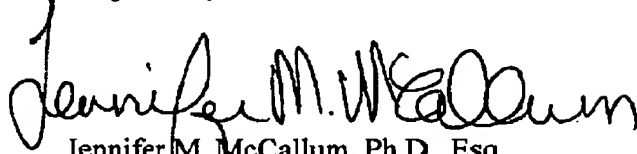

It has come to our attention that the non-final Office Action mailed July 15, 2004 is verbatim to the Office Action mailed on October 27, 2003, with the exception of the conclusion. The concluding remarks in the July 15, 2004 Office Action state that there are new grounds for rejection, but, considering the repetitive nature of the Office Action, Applicants' representative is unable to determine what the new grounds for rejection are.

In a telephone interview on December 2, 2004, the Examiner agreed to issue a new Office Action and restart the period for response. Applicants, therefore, believe that there is no fee due in connection with this submission. However, should the Examiner deem that an extension of time and fees are required with the filing of this paper, the undersigned respectfully requests that this be considered a request for such extension and authorizes charges to be applied to deposit account 50-2679.

Should the Examiner have any questions, comments, or suggestions, the Examiner is invited to contact Applicants' undersigned attorney.

Date: 12.16.04

Respectfully submitted,

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read "Jennifer M. McCallum". The signature is fluid and cursive, with the first name "Jennifer" being more prominent than the last name "McCallum".
